

WE NOMINATE

Carl Allen Fields, whose contributions to the vocational and educational guidance of students from the elementary to the college level are bringing him national recognition as one of education's most creative workers with youth and minority groups. Next week this 19-year-old native of Columbus, Ohio, after four years of outstanding service in administering a self-help program involving 45% of Princeton's undergraduate body and representing some $2.7 million annually, will assume even broader responsibilities as Assistant Dean of the College — a position in which he will have added opportunities to strengthen relationships between the community and the university.

Several months ago in "University: A Princeton Quarterly," Fields caught the attention of educators across the country with a thoughtful, low-keyed article entitled "One University's Response to Today's Negro Student." It was Fields' thesis: No university can assume that the "Negro student today is willing or able to accept all of the values of the dominant white culture at the cost of his own sub-cultural roots. There must be an ever-broadening understanding of and respect for the real supportive values of his sub-culture, and a sincere, creative effort to supply elements of it in the college and community environment to reinforce the Negro student. Ways must be available in which the Negro student can translate his education into meaningful ways to help those less fortunate than himself."

For almost a quarter-century Fields has been active in all facets of guidance and job placement, working with students and adults, including school "drop-outs," veterans of the Armed Forces and workers displaced because of job obsolescence or automation. In his years at Princeton, where he has been absorbed with his University assignments, he has been constantly drawn into the world of the community "teen-ager," sometimes by adults, more often by youth themselves. This past winter, for instance, he performed what one observer called an "invaluable service" in taking a hard look at the Princeton Youth Center, analyzing its role and making a variety of suggestions for its governing board.

At the time of his Princeton appointment in 1961 Fields was Director of Education for the New York Urban League. He had previously been Field Supervisor in the National Defense Education Act Guidance Institute, Teachers College, New York, and, from 1950 through 1962 had been Vocational Counsellor, Bureau of Child Guidance, New York Board of Education.

In the year ahead on the Dean's level Fields, the first Negro in the history of St. John's University, Brooklyn, to be elected to the honor society and to the captaincy of the varsity track team, will continue to direct the Sponsor Parents Program for black freshmen which he and others designed as an effective way of introducing each incoming black freshman to a black family in the Princeton community. He will also have general oversight of all students on academic probation, will coordinate the efforts of campus counselling offices and inform students of all counselling possibilities available, and chair a new committee to provide special help for the growing number of black students at the University.

For understanding that today's youth have matured so fast that "at 16 they are at a period comparable to the 21-year-old of 10 to 15 years ago; for opening up to students of all ages "possibilities which may never have occurred to them before;" for emphasizing that "education must not become the divider of the black community but must help unite all in progressive improvement;" he is TOWN TOPICS nominee as

WE HAVE JOBS. BUT... We Need a Ride. It's a long hot walk from Princeton to Fort Dix.

Through the Princeton Job Fete, 31 teen-agers have jobs in Fort Dix this summer from July 1 to the end of August but they need transportation to get there and they need the money to pay for that transportation right now.

A parents' committee has arranged for a charter bus to take the teens down to Fort Dix and bring them back five days a week. The charter fee: $1,600.

This means that the daily fare for each teen will be a bit $1.29. Regular commuter bus fare would be $2 a day. When you're only earning the minimum $1.60 hourly wage for a 16-hour week, it takes a lot out of your pay check to surrender $10 a week (transportation) or even $6.50 in addition to the usual payroll deductions.

And so the Princeton community is being asked by parents to help meet the $1,600 charter fee. Checks should be made out to the YWCA Job Fete and mailed to the YWCA, Avalon Place. (See advertisement, page 17)

We'll Pay, too. Youngsters who have jobs are black and white, male and female. Of the 31, 16 come from Princeton and the rest from Trenton.

Chartering a bus doesn't mean that they ride free—they will pay part of the cost themselves, depending on how much of the $1,600 the Princeton community is willing to give.

Also, part of the sum may go toward paying an adult male chaperone to ride the bus each day and prevent horse play. The bus company has asked for such a chaperone and the teens themselves agree that he should be aboard.

(The parents' committee, of course, would be delighted if some man, perhaps retired and looking for something to do, would volunteer to be a chaperone without pay.)

The young employees are between 16 and 18 years old. They will work in Walston Army Hospital at Fort Dix, the girls doing clerical work; the boys maintenance. They will leave Princeton in time to be at Fort Dix each morning at 8, and will sign off their jobs each day at 5 to climb on the homeward bus.

JOHNSON (NOT LYNDON) SUPPORTS ROCKEFELLER: Tristram B. Johnson, president of the Princeton Rockefeller for President organization, met with Gov. Nelson Rockefeller at the Holiday Inn in North Brunswick last week to present the New York Governor with 1,968 signatures endorsing him for President. The signatures were collected within three days by Princeton teenagers working for the Rockefeller organization.

Why a bus? Why not car, the late civil rights leader. However, the school board announced Tuesday night that it preferred some other kind of Carpool instead would be prohibitively high, the parents point out. As for teen cars, one parent shuddered and referred to Roadie 130 as "the Indianapolis Speedway."

NOTICE

Because of the July 4th holiday, TOHN TOPICS will be printed on Tuesday next week and distributed on Wednesday. Accordingly, the display advertising deadline will be Saturday noon, and Monday noon for news stories. Classified advertising will be accepted until 5 p.m. Monday.

This summer's program at Fort Dix is a continuation of a successful 1967 project. Last summer, a group of teens, all Negro, worked at Fort Dix and made that his trip five days a week for a six week stint.

Five of those 1967 Fort Dix workers will be going back this year. The rest have jobs elsewhere.

Last summer, there were no drop outs. None are expected this year. Youngsters who travel the bus route and work together develop a kind of esprit that's almost as warm as the money in the pocket.

And speaking of money—the address again is YWCA Job Fete, c/o YWCA, Avalon Place, Princeton, N. J. 08540.

NO "DR. KING" SCHOOL. Names Will Remain. The Princeton Regional School Board has decided not to rename any school in memory of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. The Princeton Pastors' Association had asked that Community Park, a unit of the Middle School, be named for

Mrs. George Fremont, board president, said the board agreed with the Middle School P.T.O. that a spirit of unity between the two components of the Middle School—Community Park and Valley Road—would be damaged if one school had a separate new name. The P.T.O. executive committee said it had been working all year toward the single school concept of the Middle School.

To name the entire Middle School for Dr. King would be meaningless, Mrs. Fremont said, because "nobody would ever call it by his name."

Among communications to the board on the subject, Mrs. Fremont said, was a petition with 68 names opposing a Mr. Luther King School because of Dr. King's position as a controversial figure.

"That petition almost made me vote yes," stated William Marvel, member of the board. "It was accompanied by published materials—the most revolting propaganda I've ever seen, scurrilous attacks on Dr. King. We on the board were absolutely uninfluenced by that petition and I don't want to encourage those people to think we were!"

Mr. Marvel and others on the board suggested that a Princeton memorial to Dr. King ought to be broader than something tied solely to the school system.

"YES" TO WEDNESDAYS. But Not Until January. Princeton's controversial Wednesday afternoon closing for public schools will go into effect, but not until January 1, and it is subject to further review before that time.

The Regional School Board approved the proposal Tuesday night by a 6-2 vote. Dr. Harvey Rothberg and Dr. William Abrams voting "no." Herbert Bailey was absent.

Early in the 90-minute discussion, Dr. Abrams had said he would vote "yes" because he felt that all the kids aren't getting a fair "shake" and the reevaluation to be undertaken at the meetings each Wednesday would be helpful.

He changed his mind, he said, because of the restrictive clause, "subject to further review." He said he wanted the proposal considered on its philosophical merits.

"A Vote of Confidence." Board member John Marks underscored his "yes" vote by saying he regarded board approval as a vote of confidence for the teachers. Dr. Rothberg affirmed his own confidence in the teaching staff and explained that he was voting "no" because he did not think the objectives of the plan were clear, nor was he sure how the board could vote "yes" until it saw an improved and completed plan.

He pointed out that the teachers' association has taken no official position and that the teachers' "Round Table" has even discussed the question.

Teachers Retire

Four Princeton school teachers, known over the years to be perhaps thousands of boys and girls, retire on June 30 from the school system.

Irvin Weiss, elementary, physical education teacher, joined the Borough school system in 1922, the year he was graduated from college.

Mrs. Mary W. Ballard, curriculum co-ordinator, came in 1942 to teach science at Valley Road and became Valley Road principal in 1965 before assuming her post of curriculum co-ordinator.

Mrs. Roth Griffiths, first grade teacher at John McPherson, started in 1947 as a first grade teacher at Nassau Street School.

Mrs. Thelma Mount, kindergarten teacher at John McPherson, started in 1953 as a kindergarten teacher at Valley Road.

Resolutions of gratitude were read for all four at Tuesday night's Board of Education meeting.

Although Superintendent Philip McPherson said that staff people would work all summer and fall to get ready for the January 1 starting date, there were still restive questions about specific proposals in the plan.

From the audience, Mrs. Orren Jack Turner and Mrs. Benson Carlin questioned the wisdom of classroom time lost at the high school level. Kenneth Michael, P.H.S. principal, explained that some kind of rotating schedule would probably be adopted so that pupils wouldn't lose the same class time each week, and Dr. McPherson explained that no precise number of minutes is legally required in any course except physical education.

Review Requested. Board member William Marvel also worried about specifics, a d d told his colleagues he could vote "yes" only if the board reviewed the plan again in December to see whether specific proposals had been put forward in a revised teachers' plan.

He said the problems to be discussed by the proposed teacher-citizen groups needed to be clearly identified. He asked how the citizens would be chosen. He asked what the children would be doing, and teachers who did not choose to join the teacher-citizen groups. He suggested that a full program of enrichment be spread out for the inspection of the community.

Dr. McPherson protested that specifics couldn't very well be developed until the program was under way. He said parents could be asked what they would like their children to do on the Wednesday afternoons.

To Dr. Rothberg's endorsement of enrichment as an important part of any program, Dr. McPherson replied that people now on the school staff will prepare enrichment projects.

Mr. Michael added his own enrichment to the discussion by remarking, "I don't want to be locked in tonight to a district-wide situation." He told the board he didn't think every school should have exactly the same structure under the program.

New Bus Schedules. When things were about half way along, it developed that the board was anxious to take formal action now so that bus contracts for next year can be awarded. Tying a curriculum to bus routes, Dr. Rothberg said sharply, is the tail wagging the dog.

Join Wolfkell, assistant to the superintendent, hastily explained that the board only wants to warn bus companies ahead of time that a schedule change may be in the air.

Mrs. Bonnie Wagner of the board said that the four public discussion sessions, plus the meeting at hand, were "the most fruitful public discussions we have ever had."

TOPICS Of The Town

TOWNSHIP TO ACT
Against Shopping Center. The Township is in the process of filing a complaint against George W. Warnicke, owner of the Princeton Shopping Center, charging the Center with failure to put the black-top surface "in a state of good repair?"

The complaint is being filed in the Township Magistrate's court and may possibly be heard before Magistrate Glen Miller at the court's July 17 session, according to Kester R. Pierson, attorney acting for the Township in the case.

The Center's owners were informed in mid-May that they had to make repairs within 30 days or face legal action under a Township ordinance fixing standards for parking lots. The deadline was June 17.

Magistrate Miller can impose a fine of $200 or 90 days in jail or both, for failure to comply. The ordinance is so written that the fine and the sentence apply each day the ordinance is being violated, so that a delay of 10 days, for example, could mean a fine of $2,000.

It is up to Township Engineer Frank Quimby to decide when and whether the Center's driving surfaces have been put in good repair." It could mean a complete re-surfacing job, or a partial job, according to Mr. Pierson.

THREE LONGTIME UNIVERSITY EMPLOYEES HONORED: President Robert F. Gohsen (second from right) held a reception Monday honoring those retiring from the Princeton University staff. Three employees with more than four decades of service are (from left) Miss Marie Fleming, administrative aide in the graduate school, 42 years of service; Earl L. Wilbur, administrative assistant in the Department of Chemistry, 47 years; and the senior staff member to be honored, Miss Bessie Hillman, head of the McCosh Infirmary kitchen, retiring after half a century of service. (Robert Matthews Photo)

STATE WILL SAY "YES"

To Borough Parking. Borough engineers have removed a few strategic parking meters and will study the removal of others. In return, the state is expected this week to give its approval to the Borough's parking meter ordinance. The agreement follows a meeting last week between state and Borough officials. The state says it realizes the Borough's need for parking spaces and, in general, will go along with anything reasonable.

One meter has been removed from Waterspoon Street next to the Suburban Transit office; one from the head of Moore Street as it intersects with Nassau (next to Bellows); one on the east side of Chestnut where it intersects with Nassau; and one on the northern side of the island, now a park, between Nassau and Mercer Street Extension.

The four meters on the south side have been realigned to allow 25 more feet of clearance between the last one and the cross-walk paralleling University Place.

VARIANCES SOUGHT

For Teenage Dress Shop. In one of three—possibly four—cases to appear before the Borough Zoning Board Thursday night, Bellefonte, Inc. of 210 Nassau Street, will seek variances for yard requirements and three off-street parking spaces to enable it to open a teenage dress shop.

The shop would be located in the first floor of a two-story family dwelling located at 6 Moore Street, owned by Bellows, a women's fashion shop at 210 Nassau. A tunnel beneath the ground would connect the two stores.

The only offstreet parking available in the area is located at the rear of the Hilton Building, 194 Nassau. Because the dwelling at 6 Moore is of wood, construction more side yard space is required for fire protection.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bellows are the owners of Bellefonte, Inc.

A more complicated case involves the lots at 43-45 Linden Lane which both contain rear garages. A house occupies lot 43; lot 45 is vacant.

Saverio Mangone, the applicant, who has purchased the home at 43 Linden Lane, would like to preserve the status quo, but he may be tripped up by a condition involving the property dating back to 1938.

In 1933, a previous owner obtained a temporary permit of occupancy to install an apartment in a garage in the rear. In 1938, there was a request to enclose the space between the two garages and convert it into storage. This was granted with the provision that if ever 43 or 45 were sold or a new house constructed on 45 then the rear outbuildings were to be removed or reconstructed to conform with existing yard requirements.

Mr. Mangone would like to keep the rear garage as is. At the present, one family — possibly two — is living in the garage.

In a third case, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Benson Jr. of 6 Olden Lane, will seek a side variance to construct a swimming pool on their property. Pools must be 60 feet back from the main street, according to zoning requirements.

A fourth case, which may not be heard because it was presented late to the zoning board, is that of the YMCA which seeks an extension of its permission earlier from the board to erect a building fund progress sign on the corner of Bayard and Avalon Place. The Y's original 60-day permit has expired.

Barr, recreation director, reported that 1,469 Princetonians have signed up for passes good during the two free swim periods of 9 to 11 a.m. and 6 to 8 p.m.

"We had no idea how many would take advantage of the free swim," commented one board member, "but I think I speak for the board when I say it is a greater number than we thought." This year residents had to fill out an application for a free swim pass. They were then issued a free swim ticket of a different color than those issued to paid ticket holders.

The large number of free swim users forced Mr. Barr to elicit a policeman as a precautionary measure at the entrance to the pool complex on weekends and during the 6 to 8 free swim period. "We didn't know what we would do if all 100 showed up at one time," he emphasized at the meeting that the police and special officers are to be used only during the period just after school closes for vacation when use of the pool is heaviest. "It's not going to be permanent at all," he said. "It just looks bad to have police stationed there," commented William F. Besser, 328 Terhune Road. If there is really going to be trouble, one officer couldn't handle it, if there is, the police station is right there.

A Fume of Prates? Another woman asked if the large number of free swim tickets was a protest element against the board's failure last month to lower fees. (After pressure from individuals and groups to lower fees to insure that no one would be denied use of the pool because he could not afford it, the board instead added a second free swim period of 6 to 8 p.m.) She added that the board should have free swim tickets as a protest.

In acknowledging that there were some who were taking out free swim tickets who could easily afford to purchase a season's membership, Mr. Barr pointed out that family memberships as of June 1 were ahead of last year $46 to $38. So far, 658 have purchased family memberships as compared to 523 in 1967.

The commission has received $13,642 from pool and tennis fees and daily admissions, against an anticipated revenue of $50,992 for the season. Mr. Barr stated that he felt certain that the $13,300 deficit would be met.

The use of a different color to identify the free swim ticket holders brought a protest from another woman. "There's still discrimination in this town and this seems like more of it," she said. She continued

The Summer Season

When the lightning strikes, free
Please don't stand
Beneath my tree.

Heat and humidity are the parents of thunder and lightning, and as summer arrived in Princeton, they were a growing family. Showers Wednesday, showers Thursday, the Man said. The long range forecast through the first half of July also had a familiar ring, temperatures running well above normal for the entire eastern seaboard.

that the impact of it had been brought home to her by a 10-year old boy, whom her husband was tutoring, who told her that he had a different colored swim card.

"Why couldn't you have used the same color for every one," she asked. "He's only 10 and yet he notices these things."

In reply, the board said one reason was by design: it wanted to be able to recognize the free swimmer from the season ticket holder. Part was the delay in getting new tickets printed and an alternative method of identification in individual photographs — was prohibitively expensive.

Quo Vadis? After discussing present and past issues, the board looked to the future. Board member Dean W. Chase said he was concerned about what the Recreation Department is going. "What kind of facilities, what kind of programs do we want to add now that we've got the pool?" he asked. I suggest that somehow we wrestle with what we are going to do on a long-term basis.

"I second that hurriedly," responded board member Mrs. Josephine Matthey. "I've said it before and I'll say it again: there is a lack of recreation for girls in Princeton in the winter time. So much is oriented toward the boys; there isn't any recreational program for women in the winter." "We may not have been covering the full needs of the community," agreed board chairman John Conroy, who suggested that the board might benefit from advice from interested citizen committees. The board agreed to devote its entire next meeting (July 17) to a discussion of future goals and programs.

Beacham Resigns: In other business, G. Edward Beacham, assistant director under Mr. Barr, announced in a letter to the board that he was resigning effective August 30 to accept a position as a physical education instructor at the John Witherspoon School. "We are very definitely losing a conscientious and dedicated individual," commented Mr. Barr. The resignation was accepted with regret.

Mr. Barr reported that the refreshment area being constructed at the foot of the men's locker wing is scheduled to be completed between July 15. As soon as it is, he said, a second shade awning will be erected near the refreshment area.

Mr. Beacham announced that a Junior Olympic Trial Meet sponsored by the state AAU will be held at the pool on July 16. In addition, an AAU New Jersey senior men's and women's one meter diving championship will be held July 4 at a date to be announced.

Attendance at the pools this year has averaged about 1600 on the weekends and 750 on weekdays — "about the same as last year," according to Mr. Beacham. The pool opened for fulltime use on June 18.

3 PEDESTRIANS HIT

In a Borough. Two young children and a 48-year-old Princeton man were struck by cars last week in separate accidents in the Borough.

Four-year-old Eric B. Granado, 4414 Louisa Drive, was apparently hit Monday afternoon on Alexander Street near roadway. The driver, Elizabeth G. Benjamin, 37, 30 Southern Way, told police the boy darted from the curb behind the truck as it was passing her. The tot disappeared from view and when she saw him again, she said, he was running back toward the same curb he had left.

He was taken to Princeton Hospital, examined and found to have no injuries. Police said that the victim's mother did not want him moved without a stretcher for fear he might have suffered internal injuries.

An ambulance for fear he might have suffered internal injuries. A witness, Norton Parker of Allentown, standing 20 feet away, told police the driver went directly into the path of the car, giving the driver no opportunity to miss him. Sgt. Theodore Lewis investigated.

Judith A. Walden, 5, 76 Clay Street, was taken to Princeton Hospital by a patrol car and treated for an abrasion of the right elbow after she was struck Friday evening crossing Witherspoon Street, where she was released to her parents.

The driver, James R. Hagadorn, 48, 20 Vandewater Avenue, told police he had observed several girls standing at the corner of Lytle in front of a candy store. Then, he said, he noticed something run in front of his car. He hit his brakes, stopped, saw the girl in the roadway and requested someone call the police while he offered first aid.

Police said in their report that the intersection is poorly lighted and should be brighter. P.I. Bernard Leinhardt investigated. The mishap took place at 8:56 p.m.

Earlier, Gaetano Mallica, 77, of New Brunswick was ticketed for careless driving by Sgt. Ralph Procaccino after he backed into a crosswalk and struck a pedestrian.

Police said that Mr. Mallica, parked at Tulane Street, had backed from his parking stall into the crosswalk where Tulane cuts the Nassau Street sidewalk.

In the Township, Lizzie M. Hunt, 13, of Trenton, went off Mercer Road near Gallup Drive shortly after 4 p.m. Thursday and struck a telephone pole.

She told Ptl. David Funk that a sudden pain in her stomach caused her to swerve off the road. Her car traveled some 60 feet, hit the pole and came to rest against a tree on the property at 1001 Mercer Road.

And there are two big ways a First National Bank checking account can help you enjoy it more than ever. First, when you pay your bills with handy First National checks, you have more time for shopping because you spend less time bill-paying. You can pay your bills during a quiet evening at home (after all the stores are closed), and the mailman will do all the running around for you. Second, a First National checking account provides you with a complete and up-to-date record of all your expenditures, so you can keep track of what you spend where and on what. And that record comes in handy at tax time! Sure shopping is great in Princeton — and it's even greater with a checking account. OH, WHAT A BEAUTIFUL MORNIN'! The hit of Rodgers and Hammerstein and the co-writers of summer — that's the combination this weekend and next at the Open Air Theatre, Washington Crossing Park, N. J. The Pennington Players will give "Oklahoma!" this Friday and Saturday night and July 4, 5 and 6, (left to right) Kathy O'Connor, Jean Delgado and Stanley Plushaw.

News Of The THEATRES

"IGUANA," FROM INTIME First Summer Play. Six performances of Tennessee Williams' "The Night of the Iguana" will be the first summer offering in Theatre Intime's program of plays, concerts and "specialties."

"Iguana" will open this Thursday at 8:30 p.m. in Murray Theatre on the University campus. It will play again this Friday and Saturday and July 4, 12 and 13. Seats may be reserved by calling the Summer Intime box-office, 452-3637.

Robert Rockwell, Princeton Junior who directed Intime's "Hamlet" and "Under Milkwood," is directing the Williams play. Geoff Peterson, who played in "The Misanthrope," will be "Night of the Iguana" as defrocked minister who conducts bus-tours through Mexico for Texas school teachers.

The hotel manager will be portrayed by Charlie Forbes, a June graduate from the Columbia School of Drama. The New England spinster will be played by Deborah Savage, former resident of Princeton who has appeared with the Second City company.

After "Iguana," Summer Intime will present Girardoux' "Amphitryon 38," directed by Frederic O'Brady; an adaptation of Kafka's novel "The Trial" by Andre Gide and Jean-Louis Barrault; and Shaw's "Arms and the Man."

JAZZ!

From Barry Miles, The "Syncretic" music of Barry Miles will be heard again in Murray Theatre when the young undergraduate musician brings back his brand of jazz to Princeton for a Summer Intime concert.

Miles will play next Wednesday, July 3, at 8:30 p.m. with his trio. Both of his previous jazz concerts in Murray Theatre have played to S.R.O., so Summer Intime suggests a reservation by calling 452-3637.

Barry Miles is a senior at Princeton University and has been a performer (piano, drums, vibes) since he was eight. He has made two record albums, winning a 34-star rating from "Downbeat" magazine for the latest one. He has been on more than 30 major television shows, has toured Europe for the State Department, published over 25 songs and completed a text called "Twelve Themes and Improvisations." He also takes final exams.

"Syncretic" music combines contemporary improvisations with classical composition and jazz creativity.

... AND MUSIC, TOO

At Summer Intime, A program of Bach, Scriabin, Liszt and improvisation will be given next Tuesday by James Uchtmann, pianist, as the first musical offering of Intime's Summer.

Mr. Uchtmann will play in Murray Theatre on the University campus at 8:30. Tickets may be reserved by calling Murray Theatre at 452-3637, or they may be purchased at the door for $2. (Summer Intime subscribers, half-price.)

Mr. Uchtmann is a graduate of the Juilliard School of Music and has performed at Town Hall in New York. He was "discovered" as a teenager by Mrs. Olga Smith, headmistress of the Chapin School where he was working as a carpenter's assistant. Mrs. Smith introduced him to John Ellis, who was then teaching at Juilliard, and began to study with Mr. Ellis.

When he was 16, he left high school to devote full-time to the piano, but later he received a high school diploma after attending night classes at Trenton Central High School. He entered Juilliard on a scholarship and received his B.S. degree in piano last year.

For his Intime program, he has chosen the Bach Prelude and Fugue in C Sharp Minor from Volume I of the Well-

Tempered Clavichord and the Bach "Chromatic Fantasy and Fugue."

He will also play Scriabin's Five Preludes Opus 74 and the Liszt "Funeral March," "Sonnet to del Petrarca" and the "Hungarian" Rhapsody Number Six.

A fourth section of the program will consist of improvisations on random notes suggested by the audience.

"OKLAHOMA!" IS 25 But Still Sexy. The silver anniversary of "Oklahoma!" will be commemorated this weekend when the Pennington Players put on their production of the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical in the Open Air Theatre, Washington Crossing State Park (That's on the New Jersey side, you know).

"Oklahoma!" will be given on this Friday and Saturday nights (rain date Sunday) and again July 4, 5 and 6 (rain date July 7). Curtain time is 8:30.

The Pennington Players, organized in 1951, have a special fondness for the Open Air Theatre because they helped to open it in 1964 with their production of Shaw's "The Devil's Disciple."

Musicals they have presented at the theatre include "Plain and Fancy," "Brigadoon" and "Anything Goes."

TO PLAY SAFRAN WORK At "Open Air" Concerts, A composition by Arno Safran, music critic for Town Topics, will be played this Tuesday night by the Lydian Woodwind Quintet at Open Air Theatre, Washington Crossing State Park. The quintet will also play a work by Jack Fishman, flautist with the group.

The Lydian Woodwind Quintet was formed last fall by five people who wanted somebody to play chamber music with. Its members are Allen Pomerantz, clarinet; Bill Diks, bassoon; Sue Ringelisen, horn and Mr. Fishman, former teacher at Trenton State, and Roland Skyes, oboe, former teacher at Trenton State.

Prince, Playhouse, Greenwood The Odd Couple (now playing). Nobody writing plays today gets as much fun out of such ordinary people and does such ordinary things they do as Neil Simon. Author of a series of Broadway successes in the '60's, he appeals to all types of audiences through the simplicity and universality of the situations he comically develops.

The poker game at the beginning of "The Odd Couple" is hilarious largely because the gap lines are distinct in character — five distinct personalities with ways all their own. And yet what takes place

THE ODD COUPLE: Jack Lemmon is the one who likes to keep a neat and tidy house and finds it rough going in the apartment he shares with Walter Matthau in the comedy now at the Playhouse, Greenwood and Prince.

In New York could just as easily happen — with subtle variations — in Tallahassee.

The plot is an old one — tie an apron on a man and the women start laughing. In this case, a husband estranged from his wife moves in with a recently divorced friend. They soon find themselves bickering with each other in the same way they have with their spouses.

The humor comes from character. Jack Lemmon in the role Art Carney created on the stage, fuss-budget, compulsive cleaner-upper — and Walter Matthau from the Broadway cast as the casual type who likes a little dirt around the house. Matthau's performance is a masterpiece of comic timing. Lemmon, who will never match Art Carney as a comedian, gives the role an added edge of pathos while never neglecting its humor.

The action takes place in Matthau's apartment, although there are some New York background shots and one scene at Shea Stadium where sports writer Matthau misses a triple play by the Mets because of a phone call from Lemmon. The only women in the cast are Monica Evans and Carol Shelly, also of the Broadway cast. They are priceless as the sisters who the heroes date one evening with disastrous results.

And there is a moment of sublime rebellion when Matthau walks on the furniture, wipes his feet on the curtains and aims a plate of spaghetti at the kitchen wall. Young and old will enjoy it.

IT'S NEW To Us

TO MARKET, TO MARKET
Hot or Cold. Stuffed cabbage (piping hot), with the crispest deep-fried chicken and a salad of green beans, kidney beans and onion rings all of it prepared by somebody else and ready for you to take home.
Well, who wouldn't exclaim over a supermarket like that! We are, of course, at the new Thriftway in the Montgomery Shopping Center, where a delicatessen (hot and cold tables) and a bakery are exciting and different additions to the usual packet-variety groceries you shop for.

Back at that hot table... the big pans have gentle bubbles moving all the time around the edges, that's how hot the dishes really are.
Besides the stuffed cabbage, there are stuffed peppers, barbequed short ribs darkly brown and about a half-gallon of barbeque sauce which Thriftway will carefully pour over the portion you buy to take home.

Lasagne? Naturally. Sauerbraten? Not quite so inevitable and therefore all the more interesting. Chicken cacciatore and veal parmigiana? Yes! And even honey old spaghetti and meatballs — all so piping hot you can eat 'em an hour after you get home.

That fried chicken might be mentioned along with the barbequed whole chicken, which you can watch as it cooks on its little Ferris wheel.

In the back row is the hearty baked-bean tray, and next to it a tray of baked beans, for a different taste treat.

Then, to the cold table. Here we have ready-made fruit cup, fresh cantaloupe balls, fresh watermelon balls and fresh honeydew balls, for a melange of orange, pink and pale green color, sparked with a few black cherries. Sold by the pound.

Crab salad and tuna salad — salmon salad (there's a different kind of offering) and shrimp salad — and of course, cole slaw and staidard potato salad and some heavy German potato salad alongside.

Next to the green bean kidney bean-onion salad is a tray of beet salad and some wonderful pickled eggs, hard-cooked and smooth and bright pink.

Peppers and cabbage go together for another salad, and there's chicken salad and macaroni salad and rice pudding and tapioca (when's the last time you had tapioca?) and even bread pudding, of all things.

In the cold cut department at Thriftway, there is a Dutch meat loaf, round like a loaf of rye bread, and baloney — Beer, Kosher, garlic, straight and Lebanon baloney.
Here's a Virginia ham next to taven ham, picnic ham, boiled ham, pepper ham, baked ham, and hot-spiced (that's hot with spices) ham ready to eat.

The pastami will make you reach for a loaf of rye bread. The Polish-style chopped ham will make you order more... the Prosciutto, the long Danish salami, the Braunschweiger — please don't give it all to the boys who come to play poker!

Did we mention cold roast beef? It's rare or well-done, your choice, and what a surprise to find pink, rare beef meat's cold!

Well, in the meat department we find the same tender concern. Thriftway meats are selected out west by the parent company and piggy-backed by trailer truck on a freight car to Philadelphia and then straight to the supermarkets. All is U.S. Government Top — Continued on Next Page sympathetic and humanistic approach to criminals and a simplistic awareness of sociological problems.

What the picture actually does is present for the viewer's delectation practically every crime, deviation and social and psychological problem in the book — mutilation, murder, homosexuality in its natural habitat (the "gay" bar and the "queering" places), corruption in the highest places, including the police force: dope addiction, nymphomania, and so on.

There is a tasty sprinkling of salty language. Sinatra's high-spirited speeches about poverty and the great society do not ring true, seeming more a theatrical device than a point of view the film is intended to serve. His performance is solid and well shared. Lee Remick does a good job, too, and newcomer Jacqueline Bisset is lovely to look at and listen to.

Choice beef, and comparable grades of other meats. Ring the bell, and your order is cut-on done. Ask for a crown roast of lamb or a giant rib roast of beef for 50 guests or filet mignon for two.

Another Thriftway staple is the bakery department. When we saw the row of French twisted breads, we touched one just to see and sure enough good and warm to the finger. Poppy seeds and sesame seeds or just plain bread in the European style.

Old farm loaves were grandma never baked them because she was busy doing the Charleston, but probably great grandma did. Thriftway's are sturdy and big, un-stuffed of course.

Fancy Dams in the chimney will want the chocolate chiffon pie, the fresh fruit pies, the cream puffs and Napoleon's from Thriftway's bakery.

Everything is baked or cooked right there in Montgomery Township in the big store it sell everything from the stuffed cabbage to the orange chiffon pie.

There are, of course, a few other things on deck like cans of tuna fish and heads of fresh lettuce and ginger ale and dog food — you know.

Thriftway is open from 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday; 9:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. Saturdays, and from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. in the afternoon every Sunday.

Both are in the new Hospital Aid Shop at Princeton Hospital. The Shop is in the spot where the receptionist's desk used to be in the old hospital lobby right across the hall from the snack bar.

Here, with bright yellow walls and white paint and lots of cheerful color you'll find gifts for your favorite patient, to bring cheer and a note of warmth to his hospital.

32 Nassau Street

with the freshness of Yardley's English Lavender, or April Violets, in dusting powders or colognes.

Raise a patient's morale with a 4 file comb set in a sassy leather case — rasp berry, blueberry, lemon or orange. The inevitable pillowbox has raised enamel flowers for ladies, and sternly thoroughbred horses, for the men.

Someone, bed-bound, who has an illuminated clipboard (flashlight batteries) can write in bed at 2 a.m. without disturbing a neighbor. These clipboards are $2.50. Stationery follows the high color line, almost uniformly. (How about those pink dots on green for a measles patient?)

Postcards with art nouveau backs, come in a firm hold packet so you can write on them now, and carry them home in a suitcase later. (Nice gift for anyone, convalescent or not.)

For the pediatric ward, there are children's card games, and games like magnetic checker-softairs for some of the bit older. Yardley will want that turtle with the shocking pink spots, the one you can collect autographs on! Little sister will be comforted by the washable plush animal to cuddle to sleep after lights out. Some of these animals are musical. There's a musical baby doll that moves its head and a wonderful Raggedy Anne and a soft pair of Gingerbread Twins ($3).

Daytimes, there are pop-up books with big animals that say "booi!" and Golden Library books to read. Puzzles are magnetic like the games, and there's a new pin-ball game to play with daddy.

Our favorites are the five finger-puppets with sturdy little wooden heads and calico dresses to match their characters. More fun that you have at home.

Anybody, any age, would like the Aid Shop's pre-moist towellettes to wipe off sticky fingers or the Pencil Necktie that keeps your pencil exactly where you want it — around your neck and not on the floor under the bed.

SYLVAN CHEMICALS & PAINTS

For health and long lasting care... a must in every swimming pool.

A filter does not remove bacteria or purify the water. Its purpose is to remove suspended particles of dirt. To keep your pool pure and crystal clear, it is necessary to treat the water chemically as well as filter it.

For this purpose, SYLVAN POOLS has developed a line of chemicals which is the most economical and efficient way to accomplish this procedure. SYLVAN CHEMICALS and POOL COATING, the result of many years of research and development, are specifically manufactured for swimming pool use and carried only in Sylvan Family Fun Centers. Your local Sylvan Family Fun Center Manager will be more than happy to help you in the use and care of your Sylvan Pool.

Animal Protection Sought.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
What does it avail me to work for the Humane Society and Princeton Small Animal Rescue League if a founder of the League contracts for transportation of 200 or more dogs from Arkansas to Princeton, N. J., — and conditions of transportation are so cruel that it remained for a passby to notify the authorities?

These animals, according to the paper, were consigned to AME Associates for animal research — whose head is Dr. Russell S. Edmonds, Jr., stated as a founder of the Princeton Small Animal Rescue League.

Dr. Edmonds is quoted as saying that the AME has "no control over conditions of animals during shipment, but that there are federal controls."

I would appreciate if you could determine the source of these federal controls so that I may communicate with the authorities involved.

I would have preferred to discuss this matter first with Dr. Edmonds of AME to his office said he was not available for comment.

So, it can happen, right here in Princeton.

MRS. CHARLES H. TEALL
15 Greenview Ave.

Editor's Note: Further information on federal controls regulating interstate transportation of animals should be available from the Mercer County Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals or from the office of Congressman Frank Thompson, Jr.

Making Amends for Damage.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Approximately two and a half weeks ago, a fight developed between the youths of Princeton and some from Trenton. The fight got out of everyone's hands, and before anyone fully realized what was transpiring, the fight moved to the Cat-a-Combs, at Trinity Church on Mercer Street.

Suddenly an ashtray was thrown. Then complete bedlam followed. As tempers flared, and pieces of furniture were thrown, no one took into mind that: (1) this was a church that they were fighting in, (2) that the furniture being broken could have been valuable and irreplaceable.

Presently the two combatant forces were separated by local authorities, and everyone had time to realize fully the destruction that he had caused, and the place where he had done it. Immediately everyone admitted he was sorry not for fighting, itself, but for fighting in the church, and for the damage he had caused there.

The very next day, the Princeton youths involved in the fight met at the home of Mrs. Kathleen Edwards, noted civil rights worker in Princeton, and chairman of the John Witherspoon Civic Association, and decided to give a spaghetti dinner to raise the money to partially atone for the damage they had caused.

On Saturday, June 22, these same youths held the dinner in the auditorium of the Youth Center, from noon to 5 p.m. There was spaghetti and sauce, tossed salad, garlic bread, iced tea and dessert served. The spaghetti and sauce were prepared by Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. Elizabeth Pergerson. The iced tea was prepared by Mrs. Willie Mae Tadlock, and Italian bread and dessert were prepared by various young ladies, who are members of the Youth Center, and also Mr. Kim Craig.

Tickets at $1.50 were distributed by many of the young who are members of the Youth Center. Those buying tickets were graciously served their dinner by Barbara and Millie Brooks, Pat Wilson, Sunko Thompson and Pat Brown. Dessert was served by Nadine Vernon and Beverly Brooks. Collectors and extra helpings of food were handled by Frank Welford and Conway McGowan. Mrs. Edwards and Father Laufer acted as general supervisors.

She's enjoying it very much and everyone has been very nice to her, Mrs. Cuyler said. "No one is giving her strange looks."

I myself, had one of the dinners, and was very involved with the gracious serving, and far more important, the great taste and quality of the food that was served.

One final note is that though youths from both Princeton and Trenton were involved in the fighting and the damage that resulted, only the Princeton youths have made any effort to amend some of the damage that they have done. For this I feel that the youths of the Youth Center, though wrong in what they did, are to be highly congratulated for their efforts to make amends.

Readers Wanted.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
Several times through the past year the newspapers of Princeton and surrounding areas have carried news stories in generous detail on the activities of Recording for the Blind. For this we are most grateful.

Now it is summertime again the season when many activities of our town slacken off, as some residents leave town and pressing matters have been attended to. This is not true of our recording of educational materials for the blind. Through the summer we must tape the books which students will need in September as soon as school opens.

Therefore we are appealing to those of your readers who are looking for a rewarding activity (which is carried on in an air-conditioned studio) for help in reading or monitoring or office work. To volunteer or receive further information please call the studio at 921-6334. It is open from 10:30 a.m. during the day and from 7 to 10 at night.

The generous help of this community has given our Unit of this national organization an outstanding record in its recently celebrated ten years of existence. For this, our sincere thanks, as we promise to do all we can to continue a high standard of quantity and quality.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
I should like to point out that Luis Bunuel is not, as you say in your issue of June 26, a philosopher, but a mere film maker.

Gilberto Perez Guillerma
12 Front Street, Hopewell

Editor's Note: The fact (or opinion) that Luis Bunuel is a philosopher was provided DOWN TOPICS by the Strand Theatre in Lambertville, where two of his pictures were showing. It is always possible that, given his choice, Bunuel would prefer to be known as a film-maker rather than a mere philosopher.

Penelope Edwards is probably the first Borough employee whose grandfather was also a Borough employee. The late George Montgomery, her mother's father, was in the Borough's Public Works Department for many years.

Now Miss Edwards is on the Borough payroll as secretary in the office of Administrator Robert F. Mooney.

A graduate of Princeton High School in 1965, Miss Edwards attended Rider College for two years and then worked in the New Jersey State Civil Service Department in Trenton. She started her Borough Hall job on June 17. Miss Edwards is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Edwards, 25 Green Street.

EX-CON NABBED AGAIN

Shot Pil Harris in 1946. Norman L. Cross, who was convicted with two other men of the second-degree murder of Patrolman Walter B. Harris at the Chancery Club in Princeton in February, 1946, is behind bars again after a gun battle with transit authority police men in New York City Sunday.

Cross, who was sentenced to ten years and paroled after serving approximately seven years, was arrested Sunday after a gun battle with transit authority police men in New York City Sunday.

ing to kill anyone who gets in my way!"

Two off-duty transit patrolmen managed to capture Cross after a brief gun battle. He had been sought for questioning in a fatal shooting in the Bronx earlier Sunday morning.

2D SUSPECT ARRESTED

In Western Union Theft. The second of two suspects in the $72,000 robbery here June 14 of the Western Union office, 29 Witherspoon Street, has been apprehended in New Brunswick and charged by the Borough police.

Richard J. Dunham, 21, 359 George Street, New Brunswick, charged with holdup and robbery, faced Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Tans Jr. Friday in a preliminary hearing. He was remanded to Mercer County Jail to wait action by the Grand Jury.

Dunham was picked up Friday by a New Brunswick detective who spotted him in the area where a 16-year-old juvenile had lived who was arrested by New Brunswick police after holding up a Western Union office here. The same juvenile is a suspect in the Princeton theft. It was he who allegedly wielded a .22 caliber pistol at clerk Rene Williams of Levittown, Pa.

After reading the teletype of the arrest of the juvenile in New Brunswick, Detective John Bellow and Lt. Michael Carnevale of the Borough police, accompanied by Williams, went to New Brunswick where Williams made positive identification.

Chief Peter J. McCrohan said that a petition against the juvenile has been signed, charging him with holdup and robbery of the Western Union office here. The juvenile is presently housed in the Middlesex County Shelter Home in New Brunswick. He has been charged by New Brunswick police. Chief McCrohan said he did not know whether the latter case would be heard in New Brunswick or here. He commented on the fine cooperation of the New Brunswick police and the excellent work of officers Bellow and Carnevale.

"NO" TO GAMMA-TECH Zoning Board Acts. Princeton Gamma-Tech of Cherry Valley Road will move out of Princeton Township and into either Montgomery or Plainsboro because the Township Zoning Board has defined its operations as "manufacturing."

"Manufacturing" is not permitted in the Township's service zone, where Gamma-Tech is located. Joseph A. Baicker, president of the firm, says he would like to remain in the area because the company's ten employees live here, but Princeton Township is "out."

Gamma-Tech makes semiconductor nuclear radiation detectors, and sells them to research labs in this country and all over the world. The devices are small, Mr. Baicker explained, and not very many are made.

The zoning board ruling came a day after Thursday when the Township Board asked the board for an interpretation of its ordinance. Gamma-Tech had hoped to build an addition to its Cherry Valley Road building.

$24 FOR A $60 DRESS. FASHIONS FROM FIFTH AVENUE. PRICES BY AUNT ABIGAIL.

Aunt Abigail's, the Fifth Avenue fashion store in Flemington, New Jersey, is having a sale that takes on Summer's ways.

We start with suits of linen-rayon that sell on Fifth Avenue for $70. But at our sale prices they are only $38. Add to this a complete linen-rayon group that is $36 on Fifth Avenue, but are now on sale at $16.

We also have French imported sculptured cotton dresses — $70 on Fifth Avenue — on sale for $24. The ensembles in the group that are $140 on Fifth Avenue are now on sale for $62.

Plus, a selected group of Spring woolen dresses, suits and ensembles at 1/2 off our regularly low prices. Including, original one-of-a-kind designer samples. Almost all are available in sizes 6 to 16 in a range of colors.

The prices are unique. But so is the philosophy.

Which might best be expressed this way, "We give you more than you pay for."

Aunt Abigail's is open every day (except Monday) from 10:30 to 5:30. But remember, it's not on Fifth Avenue, it's at 41 Mine Street, in Flemington, New Jersey. Telephone (201) 782-6864.

Booklet Answers Vital Questions

Council Directory Lists Social Services

WHERE TO FIND IT . . . A much-needed service directory for Princeton and environs has just been published by the Council of Community Services. Raymond Bowers (left), outgoing Council president, examines it with George J. Adair, incoming Council president, and Mrs. Nancy Gryzbek, Council executive.

Where can the alcoholic turn for help? Is there a New Jersey home for disabled veterans? Where can a working mother leave her child?

Vital questions like these, with their vital answers are in the new 118-page "Directory of Social Services" just published by the Princeton Area Council of Community Services.

The spiral-bound booklet is now at the reference desk of the Princeton Public Library. It is being distributed to ministers, lawyers, doctors, schools and welfare offices in the entire United Fund area—communities like South Brunswick, Hightstown, West and East Windsor, Plainsboro, Montgomery, Parsippany, in short, of three counties: Mercer, Middlesex and Somerset.

A social service directory, incidentally, was one of the "90 Princeton Opportunities" suggested by Leonard Newton after the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

Vital Phone Numbers:
 • In this directory, you can find the name and phone number to call if you need a lawyer and can't afford one.

• You can find the phone number of the Princeton Day Care Center and the name of the person to talk to about placing your child, if you're a working mother.

• If your child has asthma, you can find the name of a special school where he can receive care.

• If your child has cerebral palsy, you can find the name of that school, too. In fact, seven separate children's homes and treatment centers are listed.

• If your Social Security situation is all a-tangle, you can find in this directory the address and phone number of the offices to call, whether you live in Mercer, Somerset or Middlesex counties.

• Where do you apply for state scholarships?

• Where do you apply, if you are a Negro boy or girl, for an Elizabeth Taylor Byrd scholarship?

• Where can you get employment and vocational guidance in the state of New Jersey?

• What is the difference between the Homemaker Service and Family Service?

The alcoholic can turn for help to one of five places listed in the directory. The disabled veteran will find that there is indeed a New Jersey home to welcome him.

You may want to copy down the telephone numbers of 11 First Aid and Rescue Squads.

—anger in geography from the Somerset Community Volunteer First Aid Squad in Somerset to the Moonmouth Junior First Aid Squad in South Brunswick.

The directory is also revealing for what it does not list. Some communities don't have a municipal health officer. Some communities have no welfare set up.

And New Jersey has no state school for blind children.

The new directory was started about two years ago by Mrs. Nancy Gryzbek, executive director of the Council of Community Services, assisted over the last year by Mrs. William Duryea, who has had a decade of professional experience in the field of public relations.

The pleasant terra-cotta cover with its grapevine insignia was designed by Carol Stoddard and the booklet was printed by her Carolingian Press, Inc., 12 Nassau.

A $2 sales price has been set to cover expenses because the directory was not underwritten by the United Fund. Organizations interested in sponsoring distribution may write the Council of Community Services, 575 Ewing Street, Princeton.

46 YEARS OF SERVICE TO A CENTURY OLD SHOP: Larry Healy, current owner of Durner's Barbershop, began cutting hair there back in 1932, but the shop, itself, had already been in business for more than half a century. This Friday it will mark its 100th anniversary. (Staff Photo)

BUSINESS In Princeton

DURNER'S 100 YEARS OLD
Barber Shop Opened June, 1868. A century ago this Friday, when beards and mustaches were in fashion and long hair wasn't a sign of rebelling youth, a German-born immigrant, John G. Durner, opened a barbershop on the east side of Witherspoon Street just below Nassau.

Ownership has since passed from Mr. Durner to his son, Wilhelm; and to Larry Healy, the current proprietor. The shop has moved twice, but Durner's has retained a faithful clientele, and trimmed the hair of some important personages along the way.

The late Wilhelm C. (Bill) Durner started in his father's shop in 1884, and cut the hair of five University presidents, including James McCosh. He was proud of having served Woodrow Wilson, especially of the time he received a special request to cut Gen. Wilson's hair at his house, four days before his inauguration as the 27th President of the United States.

The shop moved to 120 Nassau Street, the old Bickford Building, in 1932, and in August of that year Mr. Healy began there, originally planning to remain about a year. Then 22 years old, Mr. Healy recalls, "I had titchy feet, but I got over it."

Moved Again in 1950. When the Bickford Building was torn down in 1950 to make way for Woodworth's, eight families and four businesses had to move. Durner's found a spot on Palmer Square, in the Nassau Tavern, now the Nassau Inn.

A native of Derby, Vt., Mr. Healy traveled around and worked a lot of odd jobs, before settling in to work for Mr. Durner. "I never did anything steady at all until I became a barber. You find something you like to do and you do it," Mr. Healy commented.

A resident of 49 Aiken Avenue, Mr. Healy has three daughters and one boy. At 58, he will start taking life a little easier beginning July 1. Robert Piccaro, who has worked under him for about seven years, will take over Durner's. "Like me, he was going to stay about a year," said Mr. Healy. "I'll still be here, but I'll be taking orders from him."

FRENCH SHOP CLOSES

After Four Decades. The French Shop, 30 Nassau Street, is going out of business.

One of the first — some will tell you THE first — women's dress shops in town, The French Shop was started more than 40 years ago. It began and will end in the same 20 Nassau location.

This is the second 20 Nassau Street store to go out of business this spring. The Wilcox Pharmacy closed its doors last month.

Mrs. Jacques Lahiere, now retired and living in France, started The French Shop. Women in Princeton were just beginning to buy clothes in small shops instead of having them made by dressmakers and although there was another, very small establishment on Nassau where the old Nassau Inn stood, the chic new French shop was, in a way, the first.

The shop has been owned for some years by Miss Marcelle Staiger who purchased it from Mrs. Lahiere.

Edmund Cook and Company, real estate agents for 20 Nassau, has two applicants for the 600 square feet of retail sales space, and the 178 square feet of balcony space plus the basement.

The company will say only that both applicants are in the retail clothing field. One is already established in Princeton and the other would be a branch of an out-of-town store. So no tenant has been signed for the Wilcox space. The Cook firm would like a sandwich — cigarette walk-in.

MOBIL PLANS EXPANSION

Of Research Facilities. A major expansion program, which includes the construction of two buildings totaling 100,000 square feet has been planned by the Mobil Oil Company for its research facilities on Pennington-Mt. Rose Road in Hopewell Township.

One building would contain offices; the other would be for technical research use. Additional service buildings would also be built, in addition to a new parking lot and probably an enclosed sewage treatment plant. The present number of 135 employees would be increased to more than 600, with the addition of 400 staff members and 20 secretarial workers.

At present, two main buildings on the 44-acre site house Mobil scientists and workers carrying on research in mathematics and nucleonics. Mobil moved to the site, located about a half-mile north of Elm Hill Road, in 1937.

A preliminary site plan was presented to the Hopewell Township planning board last week. It will meet with the township committee before reaching a decision.

TWO RETIRE

From N.J. Bell Office Here. A 40-year career with New Jersey Bell Telephone Company has ended for Elmer W.

Mrs. Louise M. Cook

Diez, who has retired from his position as manager of the town's Princeton office, 34 Chambers Street. Also leaving after 33 years with the company is Mrs. Louise M. Cook, 381 Lake Drive.

Joining New Jersey Bell in 1928, Mr. Diez began as a clerk in Camden. He was promoted to assistant manager of company offices in Camden and Trenton and district commercial supervisor in Atlantic City. He became manager of the office here in 1944.

Born in Philadelphia, Mr. Diez received a bachelor's degree in education from Bucknell University in 1927. He is chairman of the Ewing Township Welfare Board and is a past president of the Trenton Lions Club and deputy district governor of Lions International. A member of the Princeton Chamber of Commerce, he served as team captain for the United Fund Campaign last year.

Mrs. Cook joined New Jersey Bell in 1935 as a service representative in Trenton. She advanced through several positions in the commercial department including district coach, instructor, and business office supervisor. Since 1959, she has had a customer training assignment.

In this assignment she was responsible for coordinating telephone good usage training programs with elementary, junior and senior school students with school teachers included in their classes. A native of Trenton, Mrs. Cook graduated from Trenton High School and attended Trenton State Teachers College.

She has worked as a volunteer in Mercer Hospital, and plans to devote a portion of her leisure time to projects aiding blind members of the community.

FIBER AWARD MADE

To Textile Executive. Dr. Ludwig Rebenfeld, 49 Pardee Road, vice president of Textile Research Institute, Route One, has been given the 1958 Fiber Society Award of $300 for distinguished achievement in Basic or Applied Fiber Science, to be presented at the society's October meeting in Washington, D. C.

Born in Prague, Czechoslovakia, Dr. Rebenfeld became a U. S. citizen in 1946. He studied at Lowell Technological Institute, receiving a B.S. degree in textile chemistry in 1951. He won a doctorate from Princeton University just four years later, as a Research Fellow with TRI, studying the chemistry of cellulose.

Rising to Associate Research Director of TRI in 1960, he was elevated to the post of Vice-President, Research and Education, in 1966. His recent research has included work with the chemical reactivity of cellulose derivatives and the relationship between properties of fibers and their chemical structure.

Named a Fiber Society Lecturer in 1967, Dr. Rebenfeld is a visiting lecturer with the rank of associate professor in the chemical engineering department at Princeton University. He has been coordinating a collaborative program in chemical engineering at Rutgers, Clemson and North Carolina State for the past three years.

Montessori Method. Parents of children between the ages of two and one-half and four and one-half are invited to enroll their children in the new Princeton Montessori School scheduled to open September 16 at a location to be announced.

Two Montessori-trained teachers and their assistants will hold morning and afternoon classes from 9 to noon and 12:30 to 3:30. The Montessori method stresses self-motivation and allows for progress at individual rates of development.

The school is an outgrowth of the Children's Manor Montessori School that has been meeting at Educational Testing Service and the two women will teach at the Princeton Montessori School formerly taught at Children's Manor.

They are Mrs. Liliane Cabrera, who will be the director of the new school, and Mrs. Sally Sullivan. Mrs. Cabrera was trained at Montessori Schools, Inc. in California and then taught Montessori in California schools for three years.

Mrs. Sullivan, a graduate of Miss Fine's and of Nassau, was trained through the St. Nicholas Center in London.

Trustees of the Princeton Montessori School are Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Haney, Anthony Lanyi, Philip Luth, Berry Nathan, John J. Reydel, Gordon D. Sharp and Dae Sullivan.

An advisory board of professionals in education, medicine and psychology will include Nancy McCormick Rambusch, Town Topics, Princeton, N. J., Thursday, June 27, 1968 accents on comfort and roundness, the Austin American supplants another favorite with aficionados — the MG 1100 sports sedan. The Austin American — billed by its manufacturer as "The first car built to be a second car" — retains all of the pluses of the 1100 and adds a few more.

"If we can get enough people to look at it," says Edward Callahan, Cretar sales manager, "I predict within six months it will be the number one import car in the area. You just get more for your money."

The Austin American comes equipped with a fully-automatic four-speed transmission that also gives the driver the option of manually shifting through the gears. Heater-defroster is standard, as is almost every other feature. In fact, the only optional equipment is white wall tires and a radio.

The 58 h.p. engine is transversely mounted, takes up just 18 inches of the car's 12-foot length, delivers up to 30 miles a gallon and a cruising speed in the 60's. Front wheel drive provides surefooted traction.

All seats are foam padded and covered with washable vinyl. The front bucket seats are adjustable and then there is all that room . . .

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED
At Bank and Trust Company. In two promotions announced last week at Princeton Bank and Trust Company, John W. Byrne has been elected an assistant vice-president and a Manager of Installment Credit and William H. Booser has been named assistant treasurer and collection manager. Mr. Byrne, a Morrisville resident, joined PBT in 1962 after holding positions with Trenton Banking Company and the Broad Street National Bank in Trenton.

Mr. Booser joined Hopewell National Bank following his graduation from the University of Virginia in 1953, joining the PBT staff when the two banks merged in 1956. An Army Air Force veteran of World War II, he lives in Hopewell.

Next to New Thriftway. Towne Wine & Liquor, located in Blawenburg since 1964, has moved into the Montgomery Center, Route 206, next door to the new Thriftway Supermarket.

Like its neighbor, Towne Wine is carpeted, has paneled walls and is air conditioned. Its 1,500 square feet is larger by 600 than the previous store. Said one customer as he entered: "This is one of the most beautiful liquor stores I've ever seen."

"We're expanding our lines," said Jimmy Ajamian, the owner. "We have a large wine selection, which we expect to make even larger and our cold beer storage capacity is greater." Right now, ice cubes are available in the store, but Mr. Ajamian reported that he is expecting a 24-hour ice service machine, which will be located at the end of Thriftway, that will dispense both cubes and blocks.

Mr. Ajamian began his career as a retailer in 1947 when he purchased a general store on the corner of Route 518 in Blawenburg. He remained there for three years until he sold the business in 1962.

During the next four years, he recounted that he worked in "different places" until he was issued his liquor license. In 1964, he opened Towne Wine & Liquor, moving its 1964 to a larger area in the same building that had been occupied by a store and luncheonette.

FAVOR PRINCETON PASTORS' PROPOSAL: Pierre and Julia duPrey are in favor of the Princeton Pastors' Association's proposal to name Community Park School after Martin Luther King. "But only," says Mr. duPrey, "if it's done in a spirit of sincere admiration and respect." His wife thinks naming a school for Dr. King would be more "demonstrative" than the issuing of scholarships. (Staff Photo)

Question Of The Week

Question: Saying it would be "a highly visible symbol" in Princeton of the non-violent way of life, the Princeton Pastors' Association has requested that the school board name the Community Park School the "Martin Luther King Jr. School." What is your reaction?

Where asked: Around town.

Mrs. Dimitria Murphy, 181 Snowden Lane, housewife: We were just talking about that the other day. Seems to me we are overdoing it. When Kennedy died, everything was turned over to him. I feel we are very impulsive as a nation. I think if we established scholarships in his name — that type of thing — rather than name a building after him . . . this isn't furthering his ambitions because so many will do that. I don't think it would mean much to Martin Luther King. I feel the consensus in Princeton is, Why change it. And because the school is located in a Negro area, we may ghettoize it. Why don't we leave it as it is and really do the things he wanted us to do? I'm very impressed with the way this community is integrated. Don't change it. We're overdoing it. I miss Idlewild Airport.

Both Milray, Lawrenceville, caretaker: I think it's a good idea. I think it would help racial tensions if they did have a school named after him.

Anthony Chieffala, Trenton, caretaker: I'm for it. A lot of the colored people want something out of his death. I've been in Princeton since 1946 and know a lot of these people. I think it's a good idea.

Mrs. Boone Lynch, Trenton, housewife: I think it would be a nice idea, as a tribute to the man and the things that he's done . . . that he didn't die in vain.

Mrs. C. S. Cummings, Brunswick Pike, housewife: It's a simple thing and if it would do anything to smooth relations, why not?

Pierre duPrey, Lawrenceville, graduate student, history of art: Yes, I'm all for that. He was a remarkable man in many ways. I'm in favor as long as it is done in a sincere way. These things are so often sops thrown out to pacify people. So long as it is done in a spirit of sincere admiration and respect, I think it is a very good thing. A problem with a scholarship named for Martin Luther King is that they might be given to Negro students rather than white, which would possibly be segregation in reverse. Certainly, this is something we don't want, either.

Mrs. Julia duPrey, Lawrenceville

Apartments, employee at Princeton University Art Library: I think naming a school after him is very significant. First off, it's more likely to be known; it's more demonstrative than scholarships. You don't always hear of scholarships. Certainly, you hear about it when they are awarded but a school is more evident to the whole community. It's as they say, "a more visible symbol."

William Marshall, 68 Clay Street, teacher: I think giving scholarships in his name is a much better idea. A lot of kids around here need scholarships. They have the ability but they don't have the money. That's much better than naming a school after him. I think it's a fine idea, really, but still scholarships are needed more.

Sheila Pattison, 115 Robin Drive, Skillman, PHS Junior: In my opinion that really isn't a name you would call a school. It seems kind of funny to have a school named the Martin Luther King Jr. School. I'd just as soon see it left Community Park.

Mrs. Isell Krauss, 24 Edwards Place, research assistant, sociology department, Princeton University: Since Community Park School and the one across the street are both known as the Middle School, there is some question whether to name them both the same thing. I think it is a fine idea but you run into this problem. Also, does this mean they are going to stigmatize it as a ghetto school because it is located in a predominantly Negro area? In other words, it's a fine idea but there are problems associated with it.

Beresford Smith, 306 Nimsme Blvd., engineer: I don't think it's a good idea. I don't like the practice of naming everything after a person just because he died. It's a very

FIREWORKS PLANNED
For Independence Day, American Legion Post 76 will celebrate Independence Day with a fireworks display again this year, to begin at 9:30 p.m. in Palmer Stadium.

Entertainment preceding the hour-long pyrotechnics will begin at 8 p.m. The 19th Army Band from Fort Dix will play for the affair, conducted by Chief Warrant Officer Anthony Stachini.

After rain has forced postponement of the July 4th event for the past three years and last year threatened the rain date, Legion officials have scheduled two rain dates: the first on Saturday, July 6 and the second the following evening.

Preparation for the display are being handled by a Four of July Steering Committee, appointed by Post Commander Henry J. Frank. Its chairman, with members Maron Charydzak, Chet Czeszowski, Norman Fowler, Bill Lang Haupt, Harold M. Henson Jr., Fred H. Klink, Eugene E. Pierre, Alce Proaccione and Don J. Rios.

SIN JOIN STAFF

At Princeton Hospital, six new physicians, two promotions, a leave of absence and a resignation have been announced by Princeton Hospital's Medical-Dental Staff.

The new staff members include two specialists in internal medicine, Dr. Julius S. Richter and Dr. Joan Dibiaccio, Dr. Robert Kornblum, a pediatrician, Dr. James K. Varney, a urologist, Dr. Harry B. Elmes, an orthodontist, and Dr. William A. Hall, a general practitioner.

Dr. Richter, a 1962 graduate of Jefferson Medical School, served his residency at the Veterans' Administration Hospital in Philadelphia. Dr. Dibiaccio, who was granted a medical degree by the Roman University Medical School in 1955, served his residency at Jersey City Medical Center.

Dr. Kornblum, presently a pediatrician at Watson Army Hospital in Fort Dix, expects to practice in the Hightstown area. He was educated at the Downstate Medical Center in New York. Dr. Varney, a 1961 medical graduate of Ohio State, has served with the Navy in San Diego, Calif., since 1966.

Dr. Elmes earned a degree in dental surgery from the University of Pittsburgh in 1963, and has been associated with Dr. Quentin E. Lyle Jr. for the past 18 months. Dr. Hall, a member of Princeton University's health staff since last year, graduated in 1956 from Harvard Medical School and trained at several Boston hospitals.

Dr. Edward L. Gibson and Dr. Stanley E. Rosenberg have been advanced from the Associate to the Attending Medical Staff. Dr. Gibson, an anesthesiologist, joined the hospital in May, 1967, and Dr. Rosenberg, a specialist in urology, came to Princeton in November, 1964.

The board of trustees of the hospital have also granted a leave-of-absence for two years to Dr. Sydney B. Penick, for educational purposes, and accepted the resignation of pediatric Dr. Carolyn B. Arker. She will practice in the Philadelphia area.

Question Of The Week
 foolish thing; I don't think it proves much. If anything, it leads people to believe they have accomplished something in his name when they haven't really done anything. If people want to do something real in his memory they will do more than name a school after him. Monuments of stone don't accomplish much in this world.

Miss Jacqueline Kettle, 16 Chestnut Street, education: I'd rather think in terms of scholarships than renaming a whole building. A scholarship, or something children can use. I don't feel it's necessary to name a school for him. We've done too much of that sort of thing.

Miss Fernine Baird, Hightstown, secretary: If you change the name at all, change it to the John F. Kennedy School. His expression was, "Ask not what your country can do for you but what you can do for your country." If everyone would get up and start working together and not for what they can get out of it, then wouldn't have to be worrying about non violence all the time. I think it would be more meaningful to name the school after President Kennedy.

Glenn Harvey, Graduate College, graduate student, sociology: I am not familiar with this request or the school but as far as I'm concerned, naming anything after Martin Luther King is a good thing. Why? I liked him and what he stood for.

SPORTS In Princeton

TIGERS WON AT 647 CLIP
But Ivy Match Was Only .599.
An overall winning percentage of .647 was recorded during the past academic year by Princeton teams, despite the fact that their ability to dominate their Ivy League opponents fell off markedly.

A year ago, the Tigers won three league championships outright and shared in a fourth. In action completed this spring, their top achievement was claim to a third of the tennis title, which they held jointly with Harvard and Penn. In contrast to their overall performance of .647, they were rated at .599 against the seven Ivies.

As usual, Harvard won a majority of the events in which it competed with Princeton, taking 12 of 19. This year, Cornell also more than broke even with the Orange and Black, using three triumphs in hockey to take 10 of 18 contests.

The other five Ivy foes were on the short end of the break-even point with the Tigers. They were 8-3 with Brown, 13-1 with Columbia, 9-2 against Dartmouth, 14-6 with Penn and 10-8-1 over Yale.

Near Misses. Three Princeton teams came close to earning the top rung on the ladder. The basketball team split with Columbia in regular-season play but lost to the Lions in a playoff for the Ivy crown.

The golfers trailed Harvard for second place in the Eastern Intercollegiate and the lacrosse team was kept from repeating as champion only by overtime losses to the Crimson and Cornell. The basketball team won the most victories (20), against six defeats, while the top percentage mark went to the tennis team with an 11-1 record. The only variables below .500 were baseball (11-18), lacrosse (3-6-2) and squash (4-6).

Among the top achievements of the year was the first victory in the Carnegie Cup regatta for a Princeton crew in 16 years, the Orange and Black leading Cornell and Yale across the line on the Housatonic. Earlier this month, the crew finished third in the national regatta at Syracuse.

OLYMPIC OFFICIAL: Princeton's Albridge C. Smith has been named an alternate referee for the 1968 Olympic regatta to be held in Mexico City. An armorer at Princeton in his undergraduate days, Smith has since officiated at many of the top intercollegiate races and will now referee international competition.

Princeton's hockey team set precedent in that sport here when it earned a place in the ECAC playoffs for the first time. Top individual achievement was Mike Porter's feat in winning the Eastern Intercollegiate golf title.

STATE JUNIORS SET
For University Courts. The Princeton Community Tennis Program will host the New Jersey District Junior Tennis Championships, beginning Monday on Princeton University's Church Courts, for boys and girls 16 and under and 18 and under.

Application blanks, available at area courts and clubs, must be returned by Friday for the USTA - sanctioned journey. Later in July, competition will be held for boys and girls 12 and under and 14 and under.

All players in the tournament should report to the courts Monday at 10 a.m. Parking is available in lot 16 on the Princeton campus. In case of rain the competition will begin Tuesday. Co-chairmen of the event are Princeton University coach John Conroy and PHS varsity coach William Humes.

In Middle States Tennis, five Princeton players participated last week in the Philadelphia

THREE AGAIN TIED
For First in BSL. Another three-way tie in the eastern division has developed as a result of play last week in the Business Softball League, with Accelerator, McGraw-Hill and Columbia Carbon deadlocked with 5-2 records. RCA rolled in its seventh consecutive win in the west and leads RCA Astro by a game.

Scoring three runs in the final two innings, Accelerator shaded McGraw-Hill, 5-4, and dropped the losers into the three-way tie. Vern Newell drove across two of the runs and collected three hits. The winning run was scored when John Ruzczek drove in Joe Frangipani, who had doubled.

Accurate Basketball Predictions Win A on These

A Princeton University senior was awarded the top mark of 1 (equivalent to an A) from University's Department of Statistics this year for a thesis which successfully predicted the outcome of 72% of all Ivy League basketball games played last winter.

John R. Dodd of Bellefonte, Ohio, a letter-winner on the team this season, combined sports and scholarship in a study of Ivy League basketball "in order to arrive at a sound method for predicting the outcome of contests between two teams." Aided by a computer, a stack of statistics on the eight teams and individual players, and his advisor, Dr. John A. Hartigan, associate professor of statistics, Dodd devised three systems of varying complexity for predicting game results.

Taking into account different factors concerning the performance potentials of each team and its members, the systems delivered successful predictions of 67, 70 and 72%.

The most accurate one used box scores of all 1966-67 games and a complicated method of making estimates to determine the average scoring power of all players on the 1967-68 Ivy rosters on a point-per-minute-played average. These gave a predicted average team score per game, which was then adjusted downward by multiplying by .50 to take into account adjustment to new team situations and to allow for over-estimation of scoring due to players who did not compete on the varsity level the year before.

After comparing these adjusted scores for the two teams, a home court advantage of 2.5 points per game and a "ground factor" designed to bring point spreads more in line with past experience were added. Adjustments to team ratings were made after each game. Dodd also had to take into account the improvement or decline of each player as the season progressed.

A statistical computer was used to estimate the number of minutes an individual played in a game from the variables appearing in the newspapers box scores, because Dodd could not possibly keep an exact record of player participation in every Ivy League game.

Besides predicting the winning team, Dodd also estimated the point spread, sometimes with amazing accuracy, such as the score of the second Yale-Princeton game. Dodd predicted 70-72, the final was 74-71. He also was extremely close on forecasting teammate Joe Heiser's points-per-game average at 14.4, the Princeton captain finished with 14.6.

The bone of every prognosticator's existence is the big upset, achieved largely as a result of intangibles. Such was the case when a fired-up team Dartmouth came into Dillon Gym last February 24 as a 15-20 point underdog, and edged a slow-moving Tiger squad, 62-60. Dodd had called it 83-67 for Princeton. It was, however, his only miss on the Tigers, who took part in 15 Ivy games including the championship playoff that was won by Columbia.

McGraw-Hill scored all its runs in the first two innings, but failed to take advantage of opportunities in the sixth and seventh. Page Garwile went two for three and Jerry Jarecki had two RBIs.

Columbian Carlson had an easier time moving up to the top spot, crushing EMR, 17-2. "Gentle Ben" Zaleski walloped two four batters in a three-for-four performance. He, Al Rizer and Forest Parker also weighed in with home runs. Pitcher Bill Gahagan permitted only seven hits.

A 15-hit attack led by Ron Infant's three for three powered RCA A to a 6-1 triumph over American Cyanamid. Wally Reichert, Dour Bostonworth and Tom Roberts all had two hits. Herb Layton and Murray Garber pitched up two hits apiece for Cyanamid.

Starting slowly after losing the league lead to RCA A a week before, RCA Astro battled back from a one-run deficit in the top of the seventh inning and hung on to beat EMC, 6-4. Four consecutive singles sparked a three-run rally that gave Astros the lead, and John Reisenweber made a leaping catch of a line drive to halt a FMC comeback.

Shell Chemical improved its record to 3-4 and moved up a rung in the standings, with an 8-3 win over RCA B. Bob Porawski collected three hits in four at bats and Bill Crust clouted a round tripper, in support of winning hurler Ron Collins, who also had two hits. EMC strengthened its hold on third place in the western division, a game back of Astros, beating ETS, 11-4. Charlie Marinko and Bob Oehrle had home runs for the winners.

In other games, NCA moved over the .500 mark shutting out ORC, 8-0. Dow Jones whipped Hopewell TV, 15-1.

BANK WINS SECOND HALF

OF W. W. Little League. The First National Bank won two games last week to clinch first place in West Windsor Little League's second half, and gain the right to meet Craft Cleaners, the first half champions, in the season play-offs.

The Bank's Greg Christensen hurled a one-hitter to beat the Lions, 7-2, as center fielder John Bowker made several sparkling catches near the fence to stifle Lion rallies. Scoring in every inning, the Bank then defeated Craft, 16-5, despite a powerful grand slam to right-center by Craft's Martz.

THORNES, PACED BY CHARLIE

Going BACK

FIVE YEARS AGO

Town Topics, June 1963. The Borough and Township were flirting with consolidation again, with the formation of a 48-man committee, headed by Robert V. Dilley, to study "the desirability and feasibility of joint functioning of the municipalities."

Another study (one which produced more tangible results) the long-awaited Community Gardens Recreation Report, was made public, showing plans for a swimming pool complex, tennis courts, and a suggestion for an indoor skating rink.

The Nassau Street School was up for sale and prospective buyers voiced a wide variety of proposals for its use, including luxury apartments, a private nursing home, a motel and an auto dealership. In the end it was Princeton University, not too surprisingly, that became the new owner.

Borough Police, who have answered many a call to help a car in trouble, found no less than 47 of the feline creatures plus two dogs in a station wagon on the in the Park Place parking lot one evening. The owner, a woman from Metuchen, explained that he had taken them for the second show at the Garden Theater.

TEN YEARS AGO

Town Topics, June 1953. A program for urban renewal was unveiled, with construction of a much-needed parallel route to Nassau Street at its major point. The plan, linking Wiggins Street to Avalon Place sought to relieve some of the congestion on the town's busi-

POST OFFICE BOWLING TEAM WINS: Victory to the nine-team Business Men's Handicap League came to the Princeton Post Office when it won the second half and then defeated the first-half winner in a three-game riot. It was the team's second championship in three years. Center, above, is Captain John Trewan, presiding the team trophy to Postmaster John L. Dilworth. Others, from left, are Ray Britton; his father, John Britton; Tom Murray, Joe Proccacini and Bid Fowler.

est artery. (Notice the difference?) Other changes in the central business district were also taking place, with both Education of Testing Service and Opinion Research moving out of mid-town. The Music Shop left its headquarters at 16 Nassau Street to merge with a newly-built University Store on University Place.

TOWN TOPICS reported on its "Classified of the Week," the plea of an anonymous female-happy male who wanted the girls to stop calling him after his ad in the paper a week before asking for distant companionship drew 23 "interesting" replies.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Town Topics, June 1953. A Borough Council ordinance to establish three off-street parking lots, Park Place, William Street, and Spring Street, brought the first possibility of condemnation proceedings in Princeton's history, vehement objections from affected residents and dire threats from their attorneys to take the matter deep into court proceedings.

On the other side was the Princeton Business Association.

and many other individuals, concerned with the mounting of a campaign of finding a place to park when shopping. Among several accusations hurled at the Council were "disregard for public welfare," "creating traffic hazards for children" and "inconscient and short-sighted planning."

Princeton's Ground Observers Corps, organized along with others up and down the eastern seaboard to report the sighting of all aircraft, was honored by state officials for being one of the few posts with an unbroken record of operation.

Prices from the Past: Attractively furnished six-room two-car garage for rent, $125.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Town Topics, June 1948. Princeton's schools were in trouble with the voters over money matters, as Township residents defeated a proposal to float a $750,000 bond issue to fund the remodeling of the Valley Road School. The vote was 268-234.

TOWN TOPICS reported the largest real estate transaction involving Nassau Street property in more than a decade, with Princeton University selling the five-story 20 Nassau Street building to Educational Testing Service.

The University was also in the process of moving its nearly one million books from their various locations to the new Firestone Library. The $150,000 job, awarded to the Student Employment Agency, was expected to take 30 men, each working a 40-hour week, two months to complete.

Topics Of The Town

Applicants must take a written test, have resided in Princeton for at least a year, immediately preceding July 9, and have reached their 18th birthday. Although there is no maximum age limit, those over 70 may be considered only for temporary appointments of one year.

FINAL ROUND TO BEGIN

In Squab Case, Public hearings on the validity and constitutionality of the controversial Squab amendment enacted last summer by Lawrence Township to allow the pharmaceutical firm to move there will begin Monday, July 8, in Mercer County Superior Court. Judge George H. Barlow, who has presided over the case from its beginning last third and final phase of the suit brought by the North Lawrence Citizens' Association and Princeton Township. The first two phases dealing with conflict of interest and procedural irregularities have been decided in Lawrence's favor.

The whole affair, beginning with stormy public hearings in Lawrence's municipal building, is now more than a year old.

CARTER ROAD HOME "HIT" By Thieves Tuesday, The home of Willard K. Smith, 14 Carter Road, Lawrence Township, was entered Tuesday in daylight between 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. while the Smiths were out shopping. The intruders cut through a rear screen door to gain entry.

Mr. Smith estimated the loss of stolen property at close to $3,000. From the loot taken were pieces of antique silver, a TV set, binoculars, a shotgun rifle. Two of the silver pieces were collector's items, Mr. Smith said. He described them as a pair of antique Norwegian drinking horns, heavily engraved and "worth quite a lot of money."

The Smith home sits back from Carter Road and has woods on either side. Apparently they were in a hurry," commented Mr. Smith. They left behind a lot of things they could have taken," Lawrence Township police are investigating.

CAR SET ON FIRE

Is Total Loss. Township police have described as a total loss a car which was on fire on the Kingston Road late Sunday night.

A passing motorist from Kendall Park reported the car on fire at 10:47. He reached in and pulled from the front seat a pot light — the cannonball-shaped kerosene lamps used at night to signal road excavations.

When a Township patrol car arrived, the front seat was in flames. Police requested assistance and one piece of fire apparatus was sent. The Kingston Fire Company also responded.

Police listed the owner as Mrs. Hildegard Waletzky of 1073 Kingston Road. Her blazing 1963 Rambler was parked near the Gulick Farm on Kingston Road.

MAN CHARGED

With Malicious Damage. A John Street woman has signed a complaint charging Henry Lockhart of Witherspoon Street with malicious damage to property.

Mrs. Fortia Marshall, 2274 John, told police that she saw the suspect break the rear window of her car which was parked near her home around 1 Saturday morning. Nothing was taken from the car, police said.

It does things other small cars shouldn't do.

SAAB

Cornering at high speeds is one of the last things to expect small cars to do, successfully. Unless it's a SAAB, the out-of-ordinary small car. Out of the ordinary because it has front-wheel drive. So it doesn't push you around like others do. It pulls you around corners, curves and other drivers' mistakes, is that all SAAB has? Not on your life. Most ordinary cars don't give you, even as options, all the standard SAAB safety features.

As an optional extra, our new V-4 engine has a LIFETIME GUARANTEE.

You can drive it like a big car.
